Why the Honoree is receiving a GEM Award including dates:

During her short tenure at CSCD, Victoria has helped represent our department at numerous job fairs. Her professionalism, enthusiasm, and ability to connect with prospective candidates make her a valuable member of our department. Attending these job fairs requires her to take a significant amount of time out of her work day to set up and travel to these events. She does so without any hesitation and is always eager to help. Since she has started helping with these events, we have seen a rise in applications whenever we have an open position within our department. Her positive and professional representation of our department leaves a strong impression and helps generate interest among potential applicants who may want to join our team. She is deserving of a GEM award and I am honored to submit her name at this time.
