Why the Honoree is receiving a GEM Award including dates:

Al Henderson became a SCORE officer in November 2019. Since that time, Al has consistently received feedback from SCORE program participants that he has had a lasting, positive impact on their lives. Below are a few recent examples:

- "The program changed so much for me and I plan on seeing how much more I can improve myself and my life. Thank you to you and everyone involved in the program for all your hard work and dedication at helping others through recovery."

- "Thank you for believing in me sir. I really appreciate all the help and knowledge you gave me while I was in the program. Thank you again Mr. Henderson. I won't ever forget what you did for me."

- "All thanks to you and everyone in SCORE for taking the time to help us unlearn our coping mechanisms and shedding light on the transformative actions and behaviors that can help us when facing difficult situations or stressful times. Maintaining that outlook and always choosing to progress and set goals is carrying me very far."

This feedback is a testament to the type of officer that Al is. Al goes above and beyond for the SCORE program participants to ensure that they have the tools they need to live successful lives after their release. Al's dedication to the SCORE program and its participants is greatly appreciated. Therefore, I am nominating Al for a GEM Award.
