Why the Honoree is receiving a GEM Award including dates:

Daniel has proven to be a team player with the many ways he has assisted our department. When he saw an increased need for assistance with cases being transferred in from out of state, he volunteered and completed Interstate Compact training so he could be assigned and supervise these cases. Additionally, he has assisted the Indirect Unit multiple times over the last year by reviewing and entering Deep Lung Device reports. He regularly volunteers to cover appointments for duty days and administers drug tests when needed. In September 2023, Daniel took a leadership role in the Internship Committee and continues to play a crucial role in coordinating training for the department's interns, as well as representing CSCD at college job fairs around the area. Daniel's willingness to help the department in so many different ways makes him deserving of a GEM award and I am honored to submit his name at this time.
