Honoree's Name: Laurie Gibbs

Honoree's Job Title: Felony Investigator

Department: District Attorney

Years of Service with the County: 8

Why the Honoree is receiving a GEM Award including dates:

Felony Investigator Laurie Gibbs once again went above and beyond in her role as DA Investigator on an attempted capital murder trial, where a father attempted to fatally hang his son. Known for her relentless dedication and street smarts on her cases, Laurie showcased a different aspect of her skill set during this profoundly important trial.

This case was extremely significant to a large police department, with many officers and detectives present at the scene of this unthinkable crime. In addition to coordinating witnesses and offering in-trial support as usual, Investigator Gibbs went out of her way to keep all the affected officers updated throughout the trial. Her timely and helpful communications ensured that everyone was informed and supported during this difficult time.

The police department has expressed their profound gratitude for her exceptional efforts and the compassionate manner in which she handled communications. Laurie's actions not only exemplified her commitment to justice but also highlighted her ability to support and collaborate effectively with law enforcement partners.

This is yet another admirable aspect of Investigator Gibbs's outstanding performance. Her dedication and professionalism have significantly enhanced the organization's mission and strengthened partnerships with law enforcement agencies.

We are once again grateful for Investigator Gibbs' outstanding dedication on another critical case, as we recognize her extraordinary contributions, unwavering commitment, and for going the extra mile to ensure the success of a highly important case.
