John's leadership and work in the warehouse area of the Election office is critical to the success of elections conducted in Collin County. John is the chain of custody guru for our office. He has created custom spreadsheets that track the chain of custody for all of the election equipment as it is moved around the county for each election. The spreadsheets provide invaluable information as they tell the story, digitally, of the equipment for each election. John's leadership in the warehouse area of our office is also crucial. I can think of numerous times when John has had to step up to fill a role in his supervisor's absence. Our office never missed a beat in these times. John's work ethic, and ability to pivot in times of crisis vital to our success. His overall understanding about the election equipment makes him a go-to employee when times are tough and questions must be answered. His work is irreplaceable! We are so thankful that John Franco is a part of our team here in Collin County.
